

CALL FOR STREAM AND SYMPOSIUM PROPOSALS

SUSTAINABLE HRM AND WORKING-LIFE PRACTICES

DATE: 17–19 JUNE 2024

VENUE: University of Gothenburg, Sweden

The Centre for Global Human Resource Management (CGHRM) and FALF (Forum for working-life research) cordially invites scholars from all disciplines to an international conference on Sustainable HRM and working-life practices.

INSTRUCTIONS

Streams and symposiums should relate to conference theme and current research topics in the field of HRM and/or working-life research.

Each proposal should include a suggested title, a short description of the stream/symposium, a short biography about yourself and contact details.

A stream includes up to 10 papers, organized in sessions of 3–4 papers. A symposium includes 3–4 papers presented in one session.

Please note that the submission deadline for proposals is 31st of August 2023. Submissions should be emailed to cghrmconference@gu.se.

CONFIRMED CONFERENCE STREAMS AND SYMPOSIUMS

The organizers will notify stream contributors in September 2023 and the streams will be posted on the website to guide the Call for papers. The Chair is expected to participate in the selection of contributions and the organization of the streams. More information will be given to Chairs on acceptance of a stream.

Symposiums will be notified in September 2023 and the suggested abstracts to be included in the symposium can be submitted at a later time.

There will also be an open call for abstract.

You will find more information about the conference on www.cghrm.gu.se.

The conference is held at the University of Gothenburg. CGHRM and FALF are the main organizers and co-organizers are the following center formations: AgeCap, SDG8 Initiative, WE Work Employment.