

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION AND SPECIAL EDUCATION

International master's in educational research (IMER): Motivation letter for applications to academic year 2025–2026

Please write a letter of motivation and upload it to your pages at the University admissions website.

1. What is your qualifying degree for entry into IMER?

—For example, you may have a Bachelor in education, or in social science or humanities. Please state degree subject, the University, the country, and the date you obtained your degree:

2. How do you intend to proceed with your career following IMER?

—Remember that IMER is about educational research, so please explain to us how educational research features in your particular growth and professional development. Write no more than 500 words.

3. What, if any, research experience do you already have?

—It can be none. If you do have research experience, then please list up to two research activities you have been involved in that tell us about your research experience. This may have included any type of organised data collection and analysis, such as doing survey work, taking interviews, doing observations, doing data analysis, or data reporting. Tell us what the research was about and what you did, and whether it was, or was not, part of university courses you have taken. Write no more than 500 words.
